HIGH COURT of KERALA

COMPUTER COMMITTEE NEWS LETTER

2020-2021

FIRST EDITION - JUNE 2021

MESSAGE FROM THE DESK OF THE HON'BLE
THE CHIEF JUSTICE

" It is with much pride, elation, honour and responsibility, I present the first edition of the newsletter. This is not a mere document, but a true story encapsulating the efforts of many. Mankind has taken a beating in the last year or so with the pandemic and other natural disasters pounding on its resolve to exist. Everywhere there is gloom and doom. But like the rising phoenix, around us are amazing stories of humanness and compassion. Where some see a challenge, others see an opportunity. An opportunity to change, to be better, to realign, to self-reflect, to learn, to look at life afresh and that is rightly perceived by the High Court of Kerala.

As Albert Einstein said – “The measure of intelligence is the ability to change”. The Judicial administration in the State of Kerala and the Union Territory of Lakshadweep has always led by example. This Newsletter is showcasing the functioning of E-courts and the vision of the Computer Committee in adapting to the new challenges. The success of any enterprise is dependent on how well each of us embraces it. There is no debate on the value of an online platform, but the value of its effectiveness is measured by the user’s acceptance. Thus spoke the father of our constitution and a jurist, Dr. B.R. Ambedkar - “Men are mortal. So are ideas. An idea needs propagation as much as a plant needs watering. Otherwise both will wither and die.” It is the combined efforts of the Bench and the Bar which makes the finale so special! The Newsletter reflects the beauty of this combined effort.

This electronic newsletter is not only a way for us to go green, but also to get news and information about our court automation and case flow management. This newsletter while highlighting the e-initiatives we created this year, is also an indication of the way forward. I thank all my brother and sister Judges, the Judges of the Computer committee and the team involved in the execution of this newsletter.

I am of the firm view that through these E-initiatives and others to come, we will be able to ensure access to justice to all, more expeditiously and efficiently than the yester years and thereby attain the mandates enshrined in the Constitution of India. ”

THE HON'BLE CHIEF JUSTICE

MESSAGE

JUSTICE C.T. RAVIKUMAR
JUDGE

" It gives me immense pleasure to learn that the Computer Committee in the High Court of Kerala is going to release its first issue of the Newsletter.

When the pandemic raged through the world and crippled almost all socio-legal activities in the country working through e-committee and its subsystems, the Judiciary broke new grounds in creating a prolific e-courts system. Calamitous circumstances often create challenging situations. Success lies in salvaging the situations sagaciously. The Computer Committee in the High Court of Kerala was to act as salvage crops to save from the difficulties faced in the matter of administration of justice. The Computer Committee has succeeded in bringing out several innovative steps to cope up with the challenging situation and also to ensure that the process of complete automation of the judiciary in our State is in the right direction and most beneficial to all stakeholders.

I believe that the Newsletter will serve as a window through which the complete profile of the e-activities, achievements and progress made during the period can be viewed and assessed. The tremendous advancement in information and Communication Technology is to be used to the optimum level to enhance speed and transparency in the administration of justice.

As an institution, the High Court of Kerala is adopting technology in the administration of justice to ensure access to justice to all. In this process, we should ensure participation of all the stakeholders and that all are taken care of, by the system. Besides congratulating the Computer Committee in their pursuit of the best use of technology in judicial process and also for the teamwork behind the Newsletter, I extend my best wishes for the venture."

JUSTICE A. MUHAMED MUSTAQUE CHAIRMAN,
COMPUTER COMMITTEE

" Welcome to the first edition of our online newsletter.

We have come a long way from last year when we started the work on various programs of the e-court. While the e-courts started in 2007 in India, it is in the last few years that the online platform has evolved vastly and this newsletter is to showcase those achievements and the various initiatives taken and this includes the establishment of an IT Directorate with the support of the Honorable Chief Justice and the State Government.

Although the newsletter is limited in the amount of in-depth information, we have made every effort possible to briefly describe the projects implemented and those in process. We have worked hard towards the implementation of these initiatives and upgraded our IT infrastructure to support the new practices. The newsletter provides the data on these implementations along with the statistics of online court work achieved.

As I look back at the year, my heart fills with joy and pride at the progress we have made and the learning we have enjoyed. We have created many projects and each has been well received by the legal fraternity and the people at large. The participation has been phenomenal and the feedback received is very progressive. It gives us the energy and confidence to plan for the years to come.

I thank the Chief Justice for his leadership and the E-committee of the Supreme Court of India for their valuable guidance. I also thank both the Central and State Governments, my Brother and Sister Judges and especially my Brother Judges of the Computer Committee, the fraternity at large and the wonderful team in the Directorate for the support.

We hope that the newsletter would help in dissemination of information regarding the different initiatives. This newsletter is just another way of staying connected with you and keeping you updated about all the E-initiatives of our High Court."

" The Kerala High Court has been pursuing its e-courts initiative by adhering to the philosophy of sustainable development. We believe that embrace of technology in any sector should not be at the cost of ignoring human values and ground realities. Accordingly, while re-imagining our workflow management through process re-engineering and digitisation, we have been mindful of the effect such measures can have on the legal fraternity of judges, lawyers, court staff, lawyer's clerks and have deliberately chosen to proceed cautiously and in a phased manner, with due consultation and deliberation with all concerned. We believe that computerisation and digitisation should ultimately satisfy the utilitarian goal of bringing the greatest happiness to all stakeholders if we are to aspire for an enduring and sustainable system."

JUSTICE P. B. SURESH KUMAR
MEMBER, COMPUTER COMMITTEE

"History has shown that necessity brings change. The change is positive if there are visionaries to direct the nature of change. Our work today is a testimony of the leadership in the Judiciary.

The fact that we were able to initiate the projects highlighted in the newsletter within the last one year goes to show the sagacity of the team spearheading this. The vision and mission of the IT team of the Honourable High Court is inspired and sailing in uncharted waters with resolve, purpose and faith! I believe the attempt is to enhance the quality of justice, reduce congestion in courts, ensure transparency and to achieve speedy and timely disposal of cases by automating all the judicial functions. Computerisation and digitisation of the Kerala judiciary is the need of the hour. The e-initiatives undertaken reflect the endeavour from the part of the High court to rise to the occasion. E -initiatives are envisaged as a total solution for transforming the justice delivery system through the adoption of technology. Though our achievement so far is commendable, there is a huge scope for extending further. Let the novel and noble attempts be with the prime objective of providing designated services to litigants, lawyers and members of the judiciary and up-gradation of ICT infrastructure of various courts in the Judicial system.

It is a matter of great pleasure and satisfaction that the High Court has come up with the first issue of the Newsletter. As a member of The Computer Committee in the High Court of Kerala, I am delighted to bring my greetings to this first issue of the Newsletter. I acknowledge the efforts and teamwork of my brother judges of the Computer Committee, the IT directorate team, and all others who have joined together in the pursuit of the best use of technology in judicial processes."

JUSTICE SHAJI P. CHALY
MEMBER, COMPUTER COMMITTEE

"This newsletter is an account of the paradigm shift undertaken by the High Court of Kerala as a response to the pandemic. The Covid-19 pandemic has caused changes in the normal procedures and practices followed in all aspects of life and courts do not constitute an exception to this. Though due to the condition ensuing the pandemic, the government was compelled to introduce multiple lockdowns and restrictions, the constitutional courts and the judicial proceedings could not come to a grinding halt. Consequentially, the committee in-charge of computerisation was put to task by the Hon'ble Chief Justice S. Manikumar, under his stewardship, to enable the conduct of virtual courts. Therefore, with the limited infrastructure, email-filing commenced and the court kickstarted its virtual proceedings. The continuous functioning of the courts is an indispensable and pivotal feature of democracy and the rule of law prevailing in the country. The judiciary is the pillar envisioned by the framers of the constitution to have a continuous system for redressing the grievances of the litigating public and the citizens at large. Adoption of new technologies and adaptation to the same by all stakeholders is challenging, but sine qua non, to crisis management. True, the stakeholders—including the judges— may have their own set of apprehensions and concerns regarding switching over to a technological system for discharging justice. However, sitting idle with hands tied would never resolve the problem either and an attempt to cope up with the formidable situation is always solicited. We hope, with the support of the Hon'ble Chief Justice, the companion judges, Office of the Advocate General, advocates, staff of this court, advocate clerks and the citizenry we can tread together towards success in our venture to attain full computerisation which is a need of the hour. I, along with extending my support, wish this committee all the very best in its endeavours."

MEMBER, COMPUTER COMMITTEE

" The vision of the e-committee of the High Court of Kerala is to employ cutting-edge digital technology and process re-engineering at all levels to make the justice delivery system humane, accessible to all, cost-effective, transparent and accountable. By the incredible efforts of the IT team of the High Court, Courts in the state were able to unceasingly dispense justice during the lockdown, even while all institutions remained out of bounds for the common man. This newsletter showcases and highlights the achievements of the technology warriors of the High Court of Kerala. I hope and wish that the IT team gets the encouragement and support from all stakeholders so that they can refine their modules to perfection."

SOPHY THOMAS
REGISTRAR GENERAL

We all know the world is reeling under the throes of economic and social disruption caused by the pandemic. The justice delivery system in our country also was badly affected, as the doors of justice had to be closed down due to social distancing and lock down. We often say necessity is the mother of invention. The crisis caused by the pandemic compelled us to move on to the digital world, which otherwise we were very reluctant and hesitant to embrace. As there is no other alternative to access justice, the transformation to the new world of virtual court has become the need of the hour. In fact, Covid -19 pandemic had accelerated the adoption of digital technologies by several years. Hon'ble High Court of Kerala rose to the occasion and formed an IT(Directorate) to monitor and co-ordinate all IT related matters, including e-filing, online copy applications, arranging hearing in virtual courts, and to find out ways and means to address the issues raised by the stake holders , and to eliminate the technical glitches to run the system in a seamless manner.

The IT Directorate is taking all possible measures under the dynamic leadership of the Chief Justice Hon'ble Mr. Justice S. Manikumar and the able guidance of the Hon'ble Judges of the Computer Committee headed by its Chairman Hon'ble Mr. Justice A. Muhammed Mustaque. The routine processes are simplified by taking advantage of digital technology, reducing the time, cost and effort, and improving the efficiency of the justice delivery system. Our court rooms are transforming into modern self-contained smart courts, with a permanent facility to have virtual hearings also as wished by the Hon'ble Chief Justice of India. Apart from the vision of paperless courts, virtual hearing anywhere, anytime also is made possible exploring the potential of digital technologies. Justice which could have been denied access otherwise, is now possible in a speedy, efficient and cost-effective manner, keeping all the stakeholders safe at home, away from the crowded courts and corridors.

May I sincerely congratulate the Computer Committee and IT Directorate for its maiden attempt of releasing the News Letter showcasing the activities undertaken, achievements made, and the goals set, to fulfill the vision of the e-committee of the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India.

Kerala State IT Mission is happy to extend all support to the High Court of Kerala in its e-initiatives. KSITM is also coordinating the study proposed on the complete automation of State Judiciary being carried out by the Digital University of Kerala. I am sure that if the High Court of Kerala could pursue the vision of complete automation, it could set a national model in the automation of judiciary. The release of this spectacular first issue of this Newsletter has added value to the constant efforts of the IT Directorate at the High Court. Through this message, I wish all the very best for the future endeavours and offer the continued support of KSITM."

DIGITISATION OF CASE RECORD

- Kerala High Court being a 'Court Of Record', has to preserve and archive its paper records in perpetuity. About thirty three lakhs (33,00,000) of files are now preserved as records.
- Digitisation and Preservation of Case Records is one of the objectives under the e-Courts Project Phase -II, approved by the e-Committee of the Supreme Court of India. As a pilot project, trial scan of four lakhs pages is proposed.
- The digitisation process of disposed cases commenced on 17.02.2021 in the old High Court Library Building.
- Training is being imparted to the staff (staff of the vendor & from among retired staff) handling the process.
- The Committee in charge of Computerisation is planning to start digitisation of all pending files along with e-filing of cases. If digitisation is done along with e-filing there can be a tremendous reduction of the cost incurred in digitisation. It will also be an answer for the space constraints in storing the disposed files and in achieving the end goal of paperless courts.

e-Office

A digital

The e-Office is a Mission Mode Project (MMP) under the National e-Governance of India. E-Office is a digital workplace solution comprising of a suite of products that paves the way for an efficient and open government by streamlining workflow for both inter and intra government processes and making them paperless. The product is built on Open Architecture and the software is developed by the National Informatics Centre (NIC).

e-Office is a web application enabling the High Court of Kerala to automate the entire workflow of file processing starting from Tapal creation, File Creation, File processing and issuing orders from the file. The launch of e-Office marks a fundamental change in internal office procedures which is so far based on manual handling of files and paper movement. The use of e-Office would lead to speedier decision making, transparency, accountability, and positive impact on the environment by cutting down the use of paper and printing. Of particular relevance in the present-day, challenging situation arising due to COVID-19 is that e-Office would help avoid contact with physical files thereby preventing possible transmission of any virus. Also, e-Office ensures enhanced security as no file or document can be altered or destroyed or backdated. An in-built monitoring mechanism would identify where the files are held up enabling quick disposal and faster decision making.
