hello dear krishnan,

u choose ur death warrant with ur ego and stupidity of u or ur advisors? i explain option1: death warrant: star health choose same
- no communication in starting with me
- did stupid stock exchange jilling like u.
- hired tons of big name consultants advisors and spent millions of dollars with zero result

- paid tons to companies to try to takedown my bots and sites with zero results
- even hired international consultants to take down no result still
- they begged to law enforcement agencies. all failed.
- tried taking india court order to stop my sites and bots. all failed. my all sites and bots kept running
- end result? they got destroyed completely in my attack. even i attacked them in multiple rounds. i got there data leak to every customer and to competitors and normal people in india
- star health kept begging me to stop after all above stupidity failed for them but i only stopped after destroying them and even i earned lot by selling data option2: now compare with path of another big india insurance company chosed in december 2024 with me:
- contacted me and negotiated and made deal. they live happily and i satisfied. no leak no repeated attacks no destruction
- and compare path u are going on and if u has any intelligence then u also has this option like other company with me open for some more time then it close and u start facing permanent damages in multiple rounds. i promise u will regret very very much in every way. now u look like u want to follow star health path? lol i has much worse for u in my bag. one tiny thing all of ur company systems has my implants still active.
unrelated but tiny new gift for u. issued policy details today of u. u cant even remove my basic access. let alone my implants deep without my help.

It is also stated in the said email that the mess can be wiped out if the plaintiff makes a deal with the defendant no. 15. In the same email, defendant no. 15 stated that he/she/they are not replying to media as of now and to substantiate that media is trying to reach out to defendant no. 15, a screenshot of an email allegedly received from Thomson Reuters, a Canadian company which provides news and information services, was also attached in the email dated 22nd February, 2025. 28. It is submitted that immediately after learning of the breach, the plaintiff has made efforts to investigate and prevent further leak of the confidential information. This included invocation of its cyber crisis management plan and engagement with qualified external security experts and cyber incident investigators to conduct technical assessment of the suspected systems to identify the source and take affirmative actions to stop future leaks.

29. It is submitted that the plaintiff, after receiving the emails from defendant no.15, has also accessed the rogue website NivaBupaLeaks.com, wherein, the defendant no. 15 has unlawfully and unauthorisedly uploaded the confidential data of thousands of the plaintiff's customers including details of the plaintiff's customer's policies, with customer information such as Policy Number, Sum Insured, Premium, Name, Mobile Number, Email-Id, Date of Birth, Address, Dependent details. The entire endeavour of defendant no. 15 is to extort a ransom from the plaintiff by threatening to disclose and misuse the plaintiff's confidential information. Screenshots of the website NivaBupaLeaks.com, wherein, the confidential information and data of the plaintiff's customers have been unlawfully uploaded by defendant no. 15, has been filed along with the plaint.

30. It is submitted that the plaintiff believes that the following Confidential Data and Information has been illegally obtained by Defendant no. 15 and is being/likely to be published/misused by them:

Details of confidential information

(i) Names of customer;

(ii) Identity proof of customer;

(iii) Address and address proof;

(iv) Policy copy and policy number;

(v) Premium details and receipt number;

(vi) Mobile number of customers;

(vii) Client ID;

(viii) Unique Identification Number (UIN)

(ix) Other details of policy and personal data of the customer

31. Learned Senior Counsel for the plaintiff states that the use of expertise and resources by defendant no. 15 to circumvent the security measures put in place by the plaintiff indicates that defendant no. 15 has sought to unlawfully acquire the plaintiff's confidential information for the purpose of misusing it. The plaintiff has learnt that there are several well-orchestrated scams by online scamsters and ransomware groups who unlawfully acquire data from large service providers in the financial services sector and misuse it by seeking ransoms, impersonating the service provider and/or otherwise exploiting the data. Further, the fact that the defendant no. 15 has created a website using the plaintiff's trademarks Bupa and Niva Bupa, clearly shows that the defendant no. 15 is also highly likely to impersonate the plaintiff and use the confidential information accessed by it to cheat the plaintiff's customers.

32. It is submitted that the plaintiff has also filed an FIR bearing no. 0049/2025 on 23rd February, 2025 at Police Station Cyber South, Gurugram and has also filed a Cyber Crime Incident Report. Further, the plaintiff has also reported the incident to the appropriate regulatory authorities.

33. It is submitted that the plaintiff's apprehensions are well founded and are borne out from nearly identical scams that have been recently perpetrated on various insurance companies, including, the plaintiff. In or about October 2024, Star Health and Allied Insurance Company Limited noticed a similar unauthorized access by an unknown person to certain customer data. These unknown persons then demanded a ransom and also appear to have used bots to share customer information through Telegram and certain websites. This was the subject matter of proceedings before the Madras High Court in the matter of Star Health and Allied Insurance Co. Ltd. Versus Telegram Messenger & Ors. (C.S. (Comm. Div). No. 178 of 2024), wherein, by way of orders dated 24th September, 2024, 25th October, 2024 and 11th November, 2024, the Madras High Court noted that given the sensitive nature of business, it is likely that irreparable hardship would be caused unless ad-interim protection was granted.

34. It is submitted that a similar incident had also occurred with plaintiff in November 2024 on account of which the plaintiff was constrained to approach this Court by way of Niva Bupa Health Insurance Company Limited Versus Telegram FZ-LLC and Others, 2024 SCC OnLine Del 8908, seeking urgent reliefs to prevent illegal dissemination of the plaintiff's customer's confidential information and data. Thus, vide order dated 5th December, 2024, this Court while acknowledging the urgency and severity of the situation was pleased to pass appropriate orders for safeguarding the confidential data and information of the plaintiff's customers.

35. It is submitted that the unauthorized access and/or dissemination of the confidential information, can lead to severe consequences, including, identity theft, where hackers may impersonate individuals for fraudulent transactions, causing reputational harm. Leaked personal data could enable unauthorized access to accounts or misuse of credit profiles for loans or purchases. Criminals may exploit the stolen data for social engineering attacks, deceiving customers through phishing emails or calls to extract more sensitive information.

36. It is submitted that additionally, defendant no. 15 is/are also likely to publish this information on public platforms or hand over the confidential information to competitors without the consent of the plaintiff's clients.

37. It is submitted that the confidential information in question was provided to it by customers on a highly confidential basis and on the understanding that it would be kept confidential. The plaintiff also has a legal and contractual obligation to protect the security of such data and privacy of its clients. However, the misuse of the data, including, but not limited for the purposes of illegal dissemination and/or passing off by defendant no. 15, poses a significant risk to the plaintiff's well-known brand and reputation, customer trust and regulatory obligations.

38. It is further submitted that the information is highly personal in nature, which, if disclosed or misused, could result in significant harm, such as identity theft, financial fraud, privacy violations, or reputational damage to the individuals concerned. The breach can expose the plaintiff and its customers to widespread risks, including financial fraud, unauthorized transactions, and loss of personal privacy. Customers whose data has been compromised may face credit issues, financial hardships, and a prolonged vulnerability.

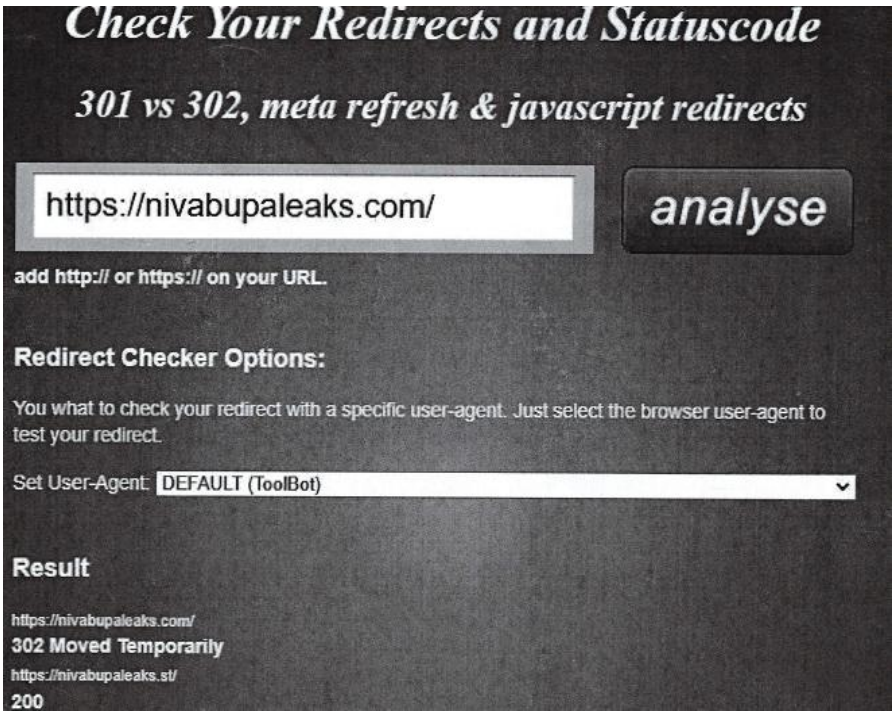
39. It is further submitted that the unauthorized dissemination of plaintiff's data will also undermine its competitive position in the insurance market. As a key player in the industry, the plaintiff's ability to attract and retain clients heavily relies on its reputation for data security and customer trust. The breach jeopardizes this foundation, thereby, drawing customers away and damaging the plaintiff's market share and prospects. As a leading Insurance provider in India, the plaintiff's business heavily relies on maintaining the trust and confidence of its clients. A misuse of confidential information jeopardizes the trust reposed in the plaintiff by its customers and would be highly prejudicial to the plaintiff's brand integrity. This will also adversely impact client retention and new business opportunities in a highly competitive insurance market. Additionally, unauthorizedly sharing the confidential information with competitors would give the plaintiff's competitors access to the plaintiff's customer database and details that the plaintiff has painstakingly built over the years and has strived to keep confidential like every other leading player in the market.

40. Learned Senior Counsel for the plaintiff submits that even as of today, the plaintiff has received an email from the unknown person, i.e., defendant no. 15, which has been impleaded as John Doe. The said communication received by the plaintiff is attached as 'Annexure A' to the present order.

41. Learned Senior Counsel for the plaintiff has also handed over a document to this Court to show that the defendant no. 15, the unknown defendant has also created a new website, i.e., https://nivabupaleaks.st/.

42. Documents pertaining to the same are reproduced as under:



43. In view of the above circumstances, the plaintiff has demonstrated a prima facie case for grant of injunction and in case no ex-parte ad-interim injunction is granted, the plaintiff will suffer an irreparable loss. Further, the balance of convenience also lies in favour of the plaintiff and against the defendants.

44. Accordingly, till the next date of hearing, it is directed as follows:

I. Defendant nos. 1 to 14 are directed to take down, remove, delete, disable and permanently block the website NivaBupaLeaks.com, https://nivabupaleaks.st/ within 24 hours of intimation by the plaintiff.

II. Defendant nos. 1 to 14 are directed to take down, remove, delete, block and disable, email ids xenzen5883@rbox.co, xenzen4@proton.me, xezen412@rbox.me, bcpsath@ainnail.cc and bcpsath@mail2tor.com within 24 hours of such intimation by the plaintiff.

III. Defendant No. 15 and their directors, proprietors, operators, partners, employees, agents, servants and affiliates and any persons claiming through them are restrained from using, copying, publishing, distributing, transmitting, communicating or disclosing to any person, the plaintiff's confidential information by any medium, or on any platform, whatsoever.

IV. Defendant no. 15 and their directors, proprietors, operators, partners, employees, agents, servants and affiliates and any persons claiming through them, are restrained from infringing the plaintiff's licensed registered trademarks including "Bupa" by making, creating, publishing, uploading, circulating and/or reproducing content depicting the use of any trademark that is identical and/or that is deceptively similar and/ or substantial reproduction of the plaintiff's trademark, any like nature in any medium/form, including television, print media, including, as part of domain

ID, email ID and/or the internet and/or in any manner whatsoever, including, from misleading/misrepresenting to any person that they have any association with the plaintiff and/ or its business activities, in any manner whatsoever.

V. Defendant nos. 1 to 14 are directed to disclose on affidavit before this Court, all details of defendant no. 15 including their KYC details, names, associated addresses, email addresses, contact details, including, phone numbers, organization and associations, URL(s) and IP addresses associated with websites NivaBupaLeaks.com and https://nivabupaleaks.st/ and email IDS xenzen5883@rbox.co, xenzen4@proton.me, xezen412@rbox.me, bcpsath@airmail.cc and bcpsath@mail2tor.com.

VI. Defendant no. 1 is directed not to register the rogue websites NivaBupaLeaks.com, https://nivabupaleaks.st/ or any other name identical to plaintiff's brand name "Niva Bupa", "Bupa" "Niva" as part of any domain name or such other websites, domain name in future.

VII. Defendant nos. 1 to 13 is directed to provide information of the registrant/user of the domain NivaBupaLeaks.com, https://nivabupaleaks.st/, xezen412@rbox.me and bcpsath@airmail.cc and to produce all details and particulars relating to issuance of the said domain, including, Basic Subscriber Information ("BSI") and records of payments made for purchase and renewal of domains.

VIII. Defendant nos.13 and 14 are directed to issue necessary instructions to its registered internet service providers, intermediaries and other relevant organizations/authorities to remove, delete, block and disable the websites NivaBupaLeaks.com and https://nivabupaleaks.st/, email ids xenzen5883@rbox.co, xenzen4@proton.me, xezen412@rbox.me, bcpsath@airmail.cc and bcpsath@mail2tor.com.

IX. In case similar other websites, accounts, content and domain names, and associated email addresses, phone numbers, that use the plaintiff's names, including, "Niva", "Bupa", "Niva Bupa", likeness or mark or are otherwise used, to disseminate, leak or publish the confidential information or associated with the infringing websites/domain names, are subsequently discovered by the plaintiff, an affidavit with regard to the same shall be filed by the plaintiff, that shall be listed before the Joint Registrar (Judicial). Upon satisfaction of the Joint Registrar (Judicial), the order passed today shall be applicable to such subsequent websites, domain names, phone numbers and email addresses, as subsequently discovered by the plaintiff.

45. Issue notice to the defendants by all permissible modes, upon filing of process fees, returnable on the next date of hearing.

46. Reply be filed within a period of four weeks, from the date of service.

47. Rejoinder thereto, if any, be filed within a period of two weeks, thereafter.

48. Compliance of Order XXXIX Rule 3 CPC, be done, within a period of one week, from today.
