Subject: Concerns of alumni regarding incidents of sexual harassment, and regarding institutional action

Respected Sir/Madam,

1. We represent a group of alumni of Symbiosis Law School (SLS), a constituent of Symbiosis International (Deemed University) (SIU), which is deeply worried about recent instances of sexual harassment, and other misdemeanours in SLS and the institutional actions in that regard.
2. The alumni have a life-long interest in and connection with their alma-mater. The recent outreach efforts of SIU are testament to this. The conduct of SLS, and, by extension, SIU, is, therefore, a matter of concern for the alumni who are the extended family of SLS and SIU. It goes without saying that the reputation of the institution, of which we are proud torch-bearers, also gets affected by the manner in which it conducts itself, which behaviour is open to quick public scrutiny in this day and age.
3. We have grave concerns over the series of events that have transpired in SLS Hyderabad (SLS-H) over the last few months, which have come to light in recent media reports. Various students of SLS-H have also reached out to us, expressing apprehension and anguish at the conduct of the institution and the way they have been treated in the present situation. The issues arising from SLS-H include the manner of handling sexual harassment complaints as also handling of various disciplinary issues, and the apparent conflation of the two.
4. It appears that a couple of students have repeatedly raised various issues relating to sexual harassment on the campus (either pertaining to themselves, or on behalf of other students), as well as other institutional and infrastructural shortfalls, on public forums (to the discomfort of SIU / SLS, and, ostensibly, in contravention of the institution's 'Code of Conduct'). An Internal Complaints Committee (ICC) has been formed by the institution in that regard, and the students in question have apparently been expelled from the campus for disciplinary reasons. Some students of SLS-H maintain that these students have taken up such causes which others were un-willing to, while some other students consider these students to be mere rabble-rousers. From the public statements made by the institution, we understand that SIU and SLS are of the latter view, and that these students have been subject to disciplinary actions. However, the public statement issued by the institution practically maligns the reputation and integrity of the students, which seems extremely excessive and uncalled for, and is rather unbecoming of reputed institutions like SLS and SIU.
5. There has even been a video doing the rounds on social media, made by unknown persons, claiming to demonstrate the "real facts". This video directly attacks the character of the concerned students and includes close-circuit television (CCTV) footage of one of these students having a verbal altercation with the security staff, which the makers are unlikely to have had access to absent the direct or indirect involvement of the institution itself. It also appears that threats were made to these students that their professional lives would be ruined if they did not comply with the institution's stance. We have also come across students who have indicated that a large number of them were threatened to fall in line with certain directions of the college. Whilst we are extremely circumspect about the veracity of any of the claims made in the video, or by students, or media reports in that regard, the video itself (especially since it contains the CCTV footage), is nothing short of shocking.

6. The reported actions of the institution are of grave concern to us and it is our allegiance to our alma-mater that drives us to reach out to you. We, as alumni, are certainly not arbiters of these issues, but we condemn the manner in which SIU and SLS have conducted themselves, which unfortunately reflect vindictiveness and a tendency to belittle and conflate the issues. It is of paramount importance that the institution must not only appear to conduct itself in an absolutely fair manner, but must actually do so, with transparency and clarity, especially with issues as sensitive as sexual harassment and misconduct. It is equally important to deal with other institutional or infrastructural concerns raised by students in a fair manner. Given the power disparity that exists between an institution and its students, any sort of 'threat' or intimidatory tactics, whether having personal, professional or academic consequences on students, are wholly unbecoming. Any institutionalised response which trivialises the genuine grievances of students, whether they be with regard to sexual harassment or institutional lacuna, reflects poorly on the institution. It cannot be stressed enough that even if there are disciplinary issues involving students and that they have acted in a reprehensible manner, the institution must not behave in the same fashion. Fingers may be pointed at SIU or SLS by these students, but it is at those times that the institution must exhibit its high standards and fair dealing. Knee-jerk and heavy-handed reactions, including threats and the order for removal of the concerned students from campus, are completely at odds with the ethos of SLS, SIU and, of course, the alumni of SLS. We are also deeply disturbed by the actions of the unknown persons who have attacked the character of the concerned students by releasing sensitive information about them in the video and who seem to have access to confidential institutional mechanisms like CCTV footage. We are of the firm belief that SLS and, by extension, SIU, need to create a safe, respectful and non-judgmental environment for its students within which there is zero-tolerance for sexual harassment and where students can express their genuine grievances without fear of such severe repercussion. The institution must remember at all times that its students, who later become the alumni, are one of its greatest assets.
7. In light of these concerns, we urge the institution to show restraint, dignity, empathy and understanding while dealing with the students at SLS-H and other campuses, whether in relation to sexual harassment and misconduct, or institutional or infrastructural shortcomings. Given the timing of the formation and findings of the ICC, and the removal of the students from the campus, it is hard to shake off the element of prejudice and bias. Therefore, we suggest that a fresh, independent ICC be called for, which is fully compliant with the Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013 and the relevant UGC regulations. We also urge SIU and SLS to retract the harsh steps taken against the concerned students, and deal with their grievances in a transparent manner. The disciplinary action, if any, against the errant students must also exhibit fairness, must not be a form of vendetta, and must be done with the dignity that an institution such as SIU carries. Students must neither be instigated nor brow-beaten but instead, be treated with dignity, sensitivity and care, and perhaps counselled accordingly.
8. These suggested measures reflect our sincere belief and intent for SIU and SLS to become a safe environment for its students and be conducive to the holistic education of a new generation of lawyers and other professionals. Our concern lies for such complainants of harassment, sexual or otherwise, who are too often stigmatised and trivialised for having the courage to speak up against such harassment.
9. As concerned alumni, we not only convey our assistance and support to the students facing these harrowing times, but also to SIU and SLS in resolving this matter. We are also happy to assist SLS and SIU by suggesting further measures which may be implemented and which would reaffirm the institution's commitment and dedication to resolving, mitigating and preventing sexual harassment and abuse on its campuses.

10. We hope and pray that the concerns of the undersigned alumni are taken seriously by SIU and SLS. We are anxious for a prompt acknowledgement and response from the University regarding our concerns and suggestions, preferably within a period of 3 days from the date of this letter.

Yours truly,

On behalf of:
